The Gettys Group proudly counts on a multicultural team, highly committed with local knowledge. The company operates at the intersection of design, implementation and strategic thinking. They offer incomparable expertise in Interior Design, Procurement, Branding and Consulting. Founded in 1988 with one office in Chicago, they've now grown to six different locations around the globe, including offices in Miami. From seasoned professionals to emerging talents, Getty Group is united by a singular passion of creating designs that work.

Roger G. Hill II is CEO & Chairman of Gettys, a leading hospitality design, procurement and development firm he co-founded in 1988. One of the vanguards of a “beautiful design is good business,” philosophy in the hospitality design industry, Roger has led Gettys through over two decades of growth by continually raising the bar. First, he changed the business model of a hospitality design firm by adding an in-house procurement department and later, by creating a property development arm at Gettys. Today, Gettys is an industry leader, known for offering a turn-key development-design-procurement formula to hoteliers but also for consistently creating hotels that deliver profits. Most recently, Roger and his team have pursued global growth with offices in Hong Kong and Dubai.
